NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The cotton market opened weak with prices less points lower, and during the rest of the forenoon displayed a disposition to respond readily to anything in the shape of bear news to the exclusion of all influences of the opposite character. As compared with 7.05 last night, January sold off to 7.02, with other months down in accordance. The room, made courageous by success on the near side during the past few days, sold without reserve. They were justined to some extent by very weak English cables, an enormous movement of cotton to the ports and by continued fine crop weather over the entire belt.

Free offerings of spot cotton in Southern markets, with a railing off in demand from American spinners, added to the heaviness of the market. Soon atter middly the weekly Government report issued from New Orleans made its appearance, but proved to be something of a stanloff, whereas a light yield was indicated, climatic conditions were said to be ideal for harvesting the crop and maturing late cotton. After working up to 7.50 on January on profit-taking by pit shorts, the market again cased off under scattering sales of long cotton and pressure from the bear side, based on liberal estimates for to-morrow's receipts and on a forecast of continued good weather South.

During the last hour the market showed heaviness, and prices kept within a few points of the bottom. Late news from Southern markets reflected declines, ranging from 1-16 to 1/1c., while in the local market another drag of 5-16c, occurred, market closed steady at a loss of 109/13 points.

It is more than probable that the pro-posed enlargement of the accommodations of the Woman's College will be discussed at the approaching session of the General at the approximate assisting the General Association, and that such discussion will crystalize into a movement for a new building and a complete new outfit for the college. Dr. W. E. Hatcher said, in a recent address, that if the Woman's College could accommodate them, it could easily have 600 pupils. Such an institution would be a great contribution to the prosperity of Richmond.
